

The Duh's of Security

Physical Asset Security

Although you have been careful to protect information in the office environment, you must also protect information and devices outside of the office.

Physical asset security includes tangible controls over printed information, laptops, personal digital assistants, and other media devices.

Never leave electronic media where it can be stolen or used without your knowledge.

View the video at COVKC.virginia.gov